Dear Parents/ Carers,

As you will know, this week was an exciting week for the children as Pobble was launched in our school. The platform is an exciting opportunity for the children to become published authors and share their hard work with the rest of the school, parents and carers. An email from Pobble will have come through to the email addresses that school holds to notify you when a piece of your child's work has been published.

When you have activated the email address on Pobble and created an account you will then be able to comment on the pupil's work. All comments made on pupils' work are moderated by Pobble before they are added to the site.

A separate account for the children has been generated through school. Pupils will receive their own passcodes in due course from their teacher. The release of the passcodes has been planned in specifically with additional education for the pupils on how to stay safe online and, more specifically, when commenting on platforms such as Pobble and other learning platforms.

So that the pupils do not become confused with who is commenting on the work, please ensure that your account does not have your child's name on and relates to you. Our aim is to provide children with as many opportunities as possible to learn how to post on Pobble in a safe and effective way to support their peers whilst also communicating with their parents and carers about their learning.

Thank you for the support you have shown to pupils on Pobble to date, the children are thrilled and have begun to check on the school's progress every day!

Yours sincerely,

Miss B. Franklin
